The PMP® Certification

PROJECT MANAGEMENT TRAINING INSTITUTE
Ph: 866.540.3126   info@4PMTI.com
Fax: 248.809.4060   www.4PMTI.com

What is the PMP certification?

Since 1984 PMI has been dedicated to developing and maintaining a rigorous, exam-based, professional certification program to advance the project management profession and to recognize the achievements of individuals in project management with the PMP certification.

PMI's Project Management Professional (PMP) certification is the world's most recognized professional credential for individuals associated with project management. In 1999, PMI became the first organization in the world to have its Certification Program attain International Organization for Standardization (ISO) 9001 recognition.

There are more than a million PMP certificants

Why do you need PMP certification?

Currently, there are an estimated 25 million practitioners worldwide in the project management (PM) profession according to PMI. According to statistics, only 29%* of projects worldwide are succeeding in achieving budget, schedule, and quality objectives. PMI's research shows that there will be 15.7 million PM roles created globally between 2010-2023 and a 12% growth in project management in US alone. Based on these statistics, it makes sense for organizations and companies to employ modern project management concepts, tools and techniques in their organization. This projected growth is an important reason why organizations are hiring or prefer to hire certified PMPs today. See how our training can help you to get your PMP certification!

Don't you think there are too many PMPs in the market?

Absolutely not! Among the roughly thirty million professionals in the PM field, less than one million are certified PMP's globally today!

You'll be one of the in-demand project managers in the industry if you get the PMP certification. With a growing membership in PMI (an annual increase of 11%), this certification has growing value and importance in the world.

Corporations trust that if they adopt and incorporate modern project management concepts and tools into their business, project success will grow eventually showing a positive ROI difference in their bottom-line.

The proven way to achieve this goal is to hire people who been have exposed to modern project management concepts or train current employees. Because of that, many corporations now require that for employment or advancement within the company, the staff must have the PMP credential.

Not everyone is eligible to get the PMP certification. To qualify for PMP certification, you must first meet education and experience requirements and agree to adhere to a code of professional conduct.

1. PMPs get paid nearly 23% more than non-PMPs, from a recent global Project Management Salary Survey of 26,000 professionals in 15 countries conducted by Foote Partners.

2. PMI's own annual Salary Survey (at www.pmi.org) indicates a consistent advantage for PMP certified Project Management practitioners.

3. PM is one of the top 5 in-demand skills & has the highest pay premium

What are the PMP certification eligibility requirements?

Candidates must satisfy all educational and experience requirements established by PMI and demonstrate a level of understanding and knowledge of project management that is tested by the Project Management Professional (PMP) certification exam to qualify for the PMP exam. Candidates may fall into one of these categories to qualify.

How do I apply for and take the PMP exam?

You can apply online at www.pmi.org for the PMP exam. Immediately upon applying, you'll know if you are being audited or if your application is in process. If PMI does not need any further clarifications and if you qualify, they will email you an acceptance letter within five business days of applying. Once your application is accepted, pay the PMP exam fee to get approval to schedule the exam. The eligibility period is one year. Upon receipt of the eligibility letter or email, a PMP candidate can schedule an exam appointment at www.PMI.org website. The eligibility letter will contain the details for scheduling an exam.

File the application at certification.PMI.org for immediate processing. PMI takes five business days to approve or longer if you are audited. Once approved, pay the exam fee to schedule the exam.

PMI administers the exam in over 600 PearsonVUE locations in the United States and Canada, as well as 3,000+ locations in over 217 countries. For a complete list of testing locations, please visit the PearsonVUE website at https://www.PearsonVUE.com.

Before starting the four-hour exam, you will have to go through a security check, a briefing, and a 15-minute computer tutorial. Once the test is complete, you'll see a candidate satisfaction survey on the screen that you can fill-out. Then, finally, you get your exam score report.

How much does it cost to take the PMP exam?

If you are a PMI member, the PMP exam fee is $405, which covers the certification exam. For non-members, the cost of the test is $575. Payment is due after the approval of the PMP application.

Re-exam fees are $275 for members and $375 for non-members. PMI charges $70 to re-scheduling the exam and will require a 48-hour advance notice.

TIP: It pays to be a member of PMI. Your examination fee is just $405 plus the PMI membership of $149 ($554 total) which is less than the non-member examination fee of $575.

What happens at the PearsonVUE test center?

Upon entering the test center, you sign-in at the reception. The proctor will provide you with the instructions. You'll get a key to a locker for your personal belongings. You can't access the locker cabinet for the duration of the exam.

PearsonVUE Center will provide you with a pencil and a few sheets of scratch paper. You may take breaks, but you'll need to sign in and out. Leaving the premises during the breaks isn't recommended. If you leave the premises, the proctor can disqualify you from completing the test.

Once you complete the exam and submit the test, you'll see a summary result of the exam indicating success or failure on the screen. A paper copy is also printed and is available at the proctor's desk. This document will contain a pass or fail status and performance information in each domain.

PMI defines the levels of proficiency as follows:

• Above Target – performance is above the average level of knowledge

• Target – performance is at the average level knowledge

• Below Target – performance is below average level of knowledge

• Needs Improvement – needs improvement in all process groups

Try a few sample PMP style questions?

1. A project has gone through a massive cost reduction and in the process lost the existing project manager. When a new project manager was charted anew to this project, one of the first steps she took was to review a document that depicted the stakeholders visually using a Venn diagram based on their power (ability to impose their will), urgency (need for immediate attention), and legitimacy (their involvement is appropriate). As a result, she was able to identify dominant, forceful, and respected stakeholders whose expectations need to be managed. Which document was she reviewing?

    A. Conflict management plan

    B. Resource histogram

    C. Influence/impact grid

    D. Salience model

2. You have decided to finish your basement, so you call a few contractors to provide an estimate. One of your conditions is that the contractor must be insured and bonded. Making this a requirement is an example of:

    A. Risk mitigation

    B. Risk deflection

    C. Risk acceptance

    D. Risk avoidance

3. Which one of the following represents a statistical means to calculate EAC based on a forecast for ETC performed at the budgeted rate:

    A. EAC = AC + BAC - EV

    B. EAC = BAC / cumulative CPI

    C. EAC = AC + bottom-up ETC

    D. EAC = AC / % complete

4. The issue log (or action-item log) is a tool that can be used to document and monitor the resolution of issues. An issue in the issue log is clarified and stated in such a way that it can be resolved. Your project team always updates and uses an issue log. During a face-to-face meeting with your stakeholder, you were able to address some items from the issue log and come up with an approved corrective action. Which one of the following processes has occurred in this situation?

    A. Develop project team

    B. Manage communications

    C. Manage stakeholders

    D. Monitoring and controlling process group

5. Based on the following table, a resource, Jay, on your project from the consumer affairs department comes to you to tell you that he is taking a two-week leave of absence from work due to a family emergency. Jay works on B and F, but not simultaneously. Task F is currently in progress. This is a problem because task F has:

    A. 1 week

    B. 2 months

    C. 1 month

    D. No float

Task	Preceding Activity	Estimate (weeks)
Start
A	Start	3
B	Start	7
C	A	2
D	A	4
E	C , D	5
F	B	9
G	E, F	4
END	G	-

Extra Credit : Change C to 4 days. Find the (1) critical path (2) float for each activity and (3) project duration, and (4) free float for activity D.
